THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, THURSDAY, PEB. 20, 1868.

THE HOMEWARD MAILS. Tur Chamber of Commerce is credited with an intention of taking a step resnecting the new postal arrangements which in itself is decidedly in the right direction. Unfortunately, however, ramour, which on this occasion seems to be well founded, credits the Committee. or the Chairman, or the Secretary, or whoever is responsible for its acts as a collective body, with an intention to take that step in a manner which will almost surely lead to failure. A despatch has been, or will be, addressed to His Grace the Postmaster General direct, setting forth the grievance at present existing and praying for an alteration in the time of the mail's departure. It seems strange that a body of intelligent men should need reminding that there is an established routine in mattters of this sort which cannot be departed from without inconvenience. The result of ignoring the Colonial Postmaster General would simply be a most unnecessary and vexatious delay. Presuming that the Duke of Montrose will receive a petition so irregularly forwarded (which we must doubt) it would be impossible for him to take action without reference to the Postal authorities here. A change of hour the departure at Hongkong might in volve a change throughout the entire route, and it would also remain to be seen whether the inconvenience possibly caused at other ports by such change might not lead to fresh remonstrances. Of course we do not see any reason why Hongkong should be made a scapegoat for the benefit of other and less important places. On the contrary, as the head quarters of British influence in the Far East it has peculiar claims to extra con-

The most superficial observer cannot fail to be struck with the difference between the importance of a despatch endorsed with the opinion of the local authorities. and a despatch pure and simple from the Hongkong, or any other Chamber, leaving the Postmaster General quite in the dark as to the working feasibility of the requested change. And we may here note our conviction that the present awkward arrangement is simply the result of an oversight on the part of the computors of the departure tables at home. After an examination of the sheet it appears as if the key note of the whole scheme were the hours of arrival in England and Marseilles, the hours this side of Suez being computed backwards; just as if, say, 2 P.M. on a certain day were taken as the hour of arrival at either of those places, and the estimated number of hours for the run between the various stations were subtracted from the final arrival date, the results, no matter what hours of the twenty four, having been set down as the dates of departure at each point of the homeward line. On general grounds therefore there would seem to be little difficulty in effecting a change, But, as we all know, there is some diffi culty in changing an established routine, especially when winds and currents form clements of the calculations upon which that routine is based. For this reason if for no other, any representations on the subject should have been addressed to the local authorities. It is not yet too late to do so, and we shall be glad if the publicity we have given to an intended measure should result in a step which

THE DETACHMENTS OF H.M. 9TH REGIMENT

CALLED OUT WE are indebted to the courtesy of gentleman resident here for a late copy of the Hiogo and Osaka Herald, from which we condense the following account of the late émente :-

The disturbance commenced on the 4th of some 150 Japanese well armed, and the command of the Secretary of the Prince of Bizen, who was accompanied by another official of high rank. The main body, some 600 strong, to which they breatened. He however got away, out Japan,

Shortly we do not hold ourselves responsible for the afterwards however they came across two French sailors, at one of which a spear thrust was only saved from being fatal by his comrade seizing the sharp blade and turning it aside, being severely cut in the act. The sailors then ran for their lives, the Japanese firing in pursuit not only at them but indiscriminately at every foreigner who appeared. Fortunately two only were hit, a French marine (wounded in the groin) and a seaman extracted.) The scene of this outrage was the main street of Kobé. Sir H. Parkes, accompanied by one of his escort, was crossing the plain marked out as the future settlement when the firing commenced. Sir Harry pluckily faced the Japanese and instead of seeking cover ran towards the Consulate to give the alarm. Several bullets whistled past him, but he fortunately reached the Consulate in safety. Several hairbreadth escapes are recorded on the part of other foreigners. One gentleman attached to the Herald, upon seeing the firing commence, thought the Japanese were only living at the foreign fings by way of defiance, but perceiving their spears uncovered (it is a capital offence in Japan to expose a naked spear-At 1.30 P.M. the assembly sounded at cause for congratulation. Hardress Cregan ment of the 9th, under Lieuts. Bradshaw and Bruce, turned out immediately. After marching a couple of miles, they came in sight of a body of Japanese, who, as soon as they perceived they were followed, turned round and advanced a short distance. Meanwhile, the 9th extended in skirmishing order, and opened a brisk fire, whereupon the Japanese broke and scattered on both sides of the road, returning the fire for about minutes: they then again broke small parties and fled towards the mountains. The American and French ma rines were on the left of the 9th. The mounted escort, with Sir Harry Parkes at their head, galloped up to where the Japanese made their stand and captured three small field pieces. Messrs Robertson and Satow of H.B.M.'s Consulate and Mr Blake were with the lastmentioned party. There were but three volunteers with the 9th; Messrs J. and R. Blackmore and Braga. At the time the alarm was given, a number of the men on board the Iron Clad Ocean, were scraping her sides. Down dropped the scrapers and without waiting to change his dress, each man seized rifle, and in a wonderfully short time. 80 marines under Captain Brydges and 40 seamen under Lieut. Cornwall were on shore. Joining a small party of 14 men from the U.S.S. Oneida, under Master Muldaur, having a brass field piece, the Ocean men started in pursuit.

> TREASURE PRODUCT OF THE ITS EXTENT, DISTRIBUTION AND EFFECT

We (San Francisco Bulletin) give the following owing from a report to Secretary McCullool James W. Taylor, Commissioner Mining Statistics:

When America was discovered, the gol and silver supply of Europe did not exceed $200,000,000, of which $60,000,000 was gold and $140,000,000 was silver. According to the estimates of Humboldt, sixty vears claused before this aggregate $200,000,000 was doubled by the treasure

M. We have the authority of Adam Smith that it was not until after 1570 that the inc. eased supply from the American mines produced any appreciable effect upon prices. In 1550, or 20 years previously, the treasure stock of Europe had been doubled; and in 1570 it reached an aggregate addition of $600,000,000 to the stock of money in circulation, that silver fell to about one-third of its former value, with a corresponding appreciation of prices. The following statement is submitted as an approximation, carefully avoiding exagger ation, of the quantities of the precious metals produced in 1866:

These were away fully 60 yards before Barebones could be induced to go straight, but when he did settle into his stride he began to draw up steadily. Plantdit and Oregon John now raced for some distance side by side, Spider giving place to Barebones who went in the gamest possible manner and coming into the straight the second time, he challenged Plaudit and passed into second place, Oregon John winning easily by a couple of lengths, Spider did not pass the post. Nearing the Black Rock Haddingion passed into first place and at the villa was half a length in advance. Birmingham still about half a length bohind Exeter. At the distance Haddington still led, but Rattler cutting in by a fine piece of riding took the rails and again shewed in front. At the bond Exeter began to draw out and at the bridge took the lead. Birmingham now raced past the other two and challenged Exceler, the pair racing nearly level to the Rock, when Birmingham showed a trifle in front, but Exe-

No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its offects in all diseases peculiar to female while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Ointment, as it cures after all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China. It is the true friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treat-
